PACIFICA QUARTET TO PERFORM AT HOCH CHAMBER MUSIC SERIES AT CONCORDIA

Bronxville, NY – As part of Concordia College's ongoing cultural programs for the public, the Hoch Chamber Music series at Concordia Conservatory of Music & Art presents The Pacifica Quartet with Lawrence Dutton, viola on Sunday, March 11 at 4:00pm at Sommer Center at Concordia College. The program includes music by string quartets by Beethoven, Shostakovich, and Dvorak's viola quintet.

Recognized for its virtuosity, exuberant performance style, and often-daring repertory choices, The Pacifica Quartet has gained international stature as one of the finest chamber ensembles performing today. Recently named quartet-in-residence at the Metropolitan Museum of Art – a position held for 43 years by the Guarneri String Quartet – and named Ensemble of the Year by Musical America, the Pacifica received the 2009 Grammy Award for Best Chamber Music Performance.

Formed in 1994, the Pacifica Quartet quickly won chamber music's top competitions, including the 1998 Naumburg Chamber Music Award. In 2002, the ensemble was honored with Chamber Music America's Cleveland Quartet Award and the appointment to Lincoln Center's CMS Two. In 2006, the Pacifica was awarded a prestigious Avery Fisher Career Grant, becoming only the second chamber ensemble so honored in the Grant's long history. Also in 2006, the Quartet was featured on the cover of Gramophone and heralded as one of "five new quartets you should know about," the only American quartet to make the list.

The Pacifica Quartet tours extensively throughout the United States, Europe, Asia, and Australia, and performs in the world's major concert halls. Having given highly acclaimed performances of the complete Beethoven, Mendelssohn, and Carter string quartets in recent seasons, the Quartet presented the monumental Shostakovich cycle in Chicago and New York during the 2010-2011 season. In the summer of 2011, the Quartet presented the complete Beethoven cycle at Tokyo's famous Suntory Hall, in an unprecedented presentation of five concerts in three days. And in 2011-2012, the Quartet will take the Shostakovich cycle to London's Wigmore Hall and will also perform the complete Beethoven cycle at the Metropolitan Museum of Art and for the Denver Friends of Chamber Music.

An ardent advocate of contemporary music, the Pacifica Quartet commissions and performs many new works. It has been widely praised for its single-concert performances of Elliott Carter's five-quartet cycle, performed in New York, San Francisco, and abroad. Critics have called these groundbreaking concerts "brilliant," "astonishing," and "breathtaking." In 2008, the Quartet released its Grammy Award-winning recording of Carter's quartets Nos. 1 and 5 on the Naxos label; the 2009 release of quartets Nos. 2, 3, and 4 completed the two-CD set. The Quartet's other recordings, including Mendelssohn's complete string quartets and Declarations: Music Between the Wars, both on the Cedille label, have also attracted international acclaim.

The members of The Pacifica Quartet live in Champaign-Urbana, Illinois, where they were appointed to the faculty of the University of Illinois in 2003 and serve as quartet-in-residence. In addition to their recent appointment as quartet-in-residence at the Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Pacifica Quartet also serves as resident performing artist at the University of Chicago.

Hailed by critics as a “poet violist” (The New Yorker), world-renowned Lawrence Dutton has earned distinction as a recitalist, soloist with orchestra, chamber musician, recording artist, and teacher of viola. As violist of the illustrious Emerson String Quartet, the first chamber ensemble to receive the Avery Fisher Prize in 2004, Dutton performs more than 100 concerts each season throughout the United States and abroad.

The Emerson String Quartet has toured extensively for more than 34 years and has made more than 30 acclaimed recordings with Deutsche Grammophon since 1987, eight of which have won Grammy Awards—including two for Best Classical Album, an unprecedented honor for a chamber music group.

Dutton serves as Artistic Director of the Hoch Chamber Music Series and is a Professor of Viola and Chamber Music at the State University of New York at Stony Brook and the Manhattan School of Music. Dutton is a Concordia College neighbor, residing in Bronxville with his wife and their three sons.
